

Notice: The 15th ICMSEM was adjusted to be held online due to the COVID-19

The 15th International Conference on Management Science and Engineering Management (2021ICMSEM) was originally scheduled to be held in Spain from August 2 to August 3, 2021. It is the annual conference organized and supported by the International Society of Management Science and Engineering Management (ISMSEM), Sichuan University, University of Castilla-La Mancha and Ingenium Research Group. The safety and well-being of all conference participants is our top priority, and our thoughts are with all those affected by the COVID-19 outbreak. After studying and evaluating the announcements and news released by relevant national departments, along with guidance from the ISMSEM leadership, 2021 ICMSEM will continue as scheduled from August 2 to August 3, 2021, by being converted to the virtual (online) conference, and will not take place physically in Spain. The specific schedule will be notified separately. The publication and retrieval of the proceedings can still will follow the normal procedures without the impact of the epidemic, (and not be affected by the conference format).

Author Presentations: Authors of all 2021 ICMSEM accepted papers are required to present their work through the online platform. Please prepare your slide for the presentation and the specific schedule for the Opening ceremony, keynote speeches, Parallel sessions etc. will be announced soon. The specific schedule will be notified separately.

We hope you all stay safe and well, and look forward to working with you all to put on an exciting virtual ICMSEM!

With Best Regards,
